TO: THE HONORABLE JAMES H. HODGES, Governor of South Carolina, to the Honorable Members of the General Assembly, and the citizens of South Carolina

The South Carolina State Library, in spite of budgetary restraints, provided programs to ensure that all South Carolinians have access to the information and library services needed in their daily lives. It is with pleasure that this summary of the 2000-2001 activities of the State Library is presented.

Highlights of the year's accomplishments include:

- An increase of 10% in the use of DISCUS-South Carolina's Virtual Library.
- Citizen access from home or office to all DISCUS databases.
- A record-breaking participation by children in the State Library/public library sponsored summer reading club program.
- A collaboration with other agencies to explore the issues surrounding the provision of state government information to the handicapped.

The State Library continues to have an increased demand for its services. The quality of its services remains high despite loss of staff and other resources.

I. ORGANIZATION AND OPERATIONS

The South Carolina State Library is an independent state agency governed by a board of seven members appointed by the Governor, with one member from each Congressional District and one from the state at large. Members serve five-year terms and may be reappointed.

Statutory authority for the South Carolina State Library is provided by Title 60, Chapter 1 of the Code of Laws of South Carolina. Originally authorized in 1929 and known as the State Library Board, the public library extension agency was first funded in 1943. It was redesignated the South Carolina State Library with a broad range of responsibilities by Act 464 of 1969. The legislation was recodified and new functions were authorized by Act 178 of 1985.

The Director, who is responsible for the operation of the agency, is appointed by and is responsible to the Board of the State Library. The director is assisted by a deputy director. The work of the library is performed by six departments. A brief description of each follows:

- Administrative Services. Provides support services in the areas of budgeting, financial management, human resources, procurement, public relations, secretarial support and facilities management.

- Blind and Physically Handicapped Services. Provides library service to individuals who are unable to use conventional print materials due to blindness or a physical handicap. Reading materials are provided in special formats (recorded, large print, and Braille).

- Library Development. Provides consultant services to public libraries to further the development and improvement of library services statewide.

- Information Services. Coordinates DISCUS – South Carolina's Virtual Library. Provides research services to state government agencies. Provides statewide reference and interlibrary loan service to supplement local library resources.

- Network Services. Operates the South Carolina Library Network through the maintenance of a computer-based library network and communications system which facilitates sharing of library resources and services.

- Technical Services. Acquires, catalogs, classifies, and makes available all materials used in the library program.

ORGANIZATION AND OPERATIONS

The South Carolina State Library's activities are guided by its strategic plan approved by the South Carolina State Library Board. The current three-year plan covers the period FY 2000-2003. The State Library's management team develops the plan, based upon input from staff and constituents. An annual business plan is developed from the strategic plan with responsibilities for implementation clearly articulated.

Highlights of the strategic plan include:

Mission statement: The South Carolina State Library's mission is to improve library services throughout the state and to ensure all citizens access to libraries and information resources adequate to meet their needs.

Vision statement: The South Carolina State Library is a major leader in the planning and implementation of effective informational and library services for the people of South Carolina. It is a vital component of the State's information infrastructure.

The current strategic plan contains five strategic goals:

- Strategic Goal A: Provide information resources and services to meet the needs of the people of South Carolina.
- Strategic Goal B: Provide statewide programs to support local library services.
- Strategic Goal C: Serve as the advocate for libraries in South Carolina.
- Strategic Goal D: Encourage cooperation among libraries of all types.
- Strategic Goal E: Continuously improve State Library operations and services.

This report highlights the State Library's progress towards meeting these goals.

II. ACTIVITIES -- FY 2001

Strategic Goal A: "Provide information resources and library services to meet the needs of the people of South Carolina."

State Library Users

The State Library is a research center for all South Carolinians. Everyone may use the materials in the State Library's facilities in Columbia. Direct loan is available to state government employees and members of the General Assembly.

People across the state may borrow items from the State Library's collections on interlibrary loan through their local libraries that participate in the South Carolina Library Network coordinated by the State Library. The present 298 participating libraries by type are:

Public libraries	54
Institutional libraries	4
Academic libraries	53
School libraries	149
Special libraries	38

South Carolina Library Network users may search the State Library online catalog, WebLION, via the Internet and request materials. This year the State Library began providing interactive forms for use by local libraries in placing requests.

individuals with qualifying disabilities that prevent them from using conventional print materials are served directly by the State Library's Department for the Blind and Physically Handicapped. Eligible users include those unable to hold a book, turn pages, or see normal size print and those with a learning disability or a temporary disability due to injury or illness.

Registered Borrowers
State Government Employees	6,070
Libraries	298
Blind & Physically Handicapped	7,250

State Library Collections

The Research Collection is composed mainly of non-fiction materials selected to supplement the holdings of local libraries and to support state government research. This centralized collection reduces unnecessary duplication of expensive and specialized materials in state agencies and in local libraries. The collection includes periodicals, newspapers, state and federal documents, and audiovisual materials.

The Blind and Physically Handicapped Collection contains reading materials for all ages in special media (cassette, large print, braille, disc, and descriptive video).

The Grants Research Collection includes printed directories and guides and electronic resources to assist nonprofit organizations, government agencies, and citizens in locating grants. The State Library serves as an official cooperating collection of the Foundation Center. The State Library compiled and published the seventh edition of the South Carolina Foundation Directory during the year.

South Carolina Fiction Cooperative, a joint venture of the public libraries of the state and the State Library, contains older fiction titles, identified as the "last copy" in a particular public library's collection.

DISCUS – South Carolina's Virtual Library

To provide all South Carolinians with equal access to information resources, the South Carolina State Library administers DISCUS – South Carolina's Virtual Library, an electronic library of essential information and learning resources. DISCUS purchases subscription databases that are accessible from the Internet in all of the state's public libraries, public school libraries and classrooms, selected K-12 private schools and public and private colleges. In FY 2001, the State Library completed arrangements for all of the resources to be available from the home or office Internet accounts of all South Carolinians twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week.

South Carolina is the first state in the country to offer such a wide variety of access of information resources to all its libraries. Training is provided to the library, curriculum resource and technology staffs of participating institutions to help them make effective use of DISCUS.

DISCUS Usage FY 2001
Full-text items retrieved 3,803,932 articles (a 10% increase over the previous year)

Information Services

The State Library has a highly skilled research and technical staff to assist users in locating information to meet their needs. Research librarians conduct complex searches in response to questions from state government employees and the general public upon referral from local libraries. In recent years, the staff has worked to develop web pages to assist the public in making effective use of the tremendous amount of information available on the Internet. Specialized web sites include the Lion's Den that provides organized links to information of interest to state government employees. The staff maintains another web site, "SConnects@the Library" to assist public librarians in providing useful links for local library users. This site includes selected links to informational web sites in topical areas such as education, business, government and general reference. The site also includes a Kid's Page.

Information Services Usage – FY 2001:

Information transactions – general reference	19,781
Information transactions – blind & physically handicapped	10,954
Electronic hits (excluding DISCUS)	1,603,236

South Carolina State Documents Depository Program

The South Carolina State Library administers the State Documents Depository System which ensures local access to state government publications. State agencies supply the State Library with 15 copies of publications. The State Library catalogs and processes the publications, retaining 3 copies for its permanent collection. The remaining copies are distributed to the Library of Congress and the following 11 participating in-state depository libraries:

- Clemson University
- Coastal Carolina University
- College of Charleston
- Francis Marion University
- Greenville County Library
- Lander University
- South Carolina State University
- Spartanburg County Library
- USC-Aiken
- USC-Beaufort
- Winthrop University

The State Library added 3,346 state documents to its collection bringing the total to 77,402. This collection is the largest repository of South Carolina's official state publications in the world.

Strategic Goal B: "Provide statewide programs to support local library services."

Consultant Services
The State Library consultants provide information, suggest and discuss possible courses of action, and lend assistance and support to public library directors and staff; trustees; Friends groups; state and local government officials; and library and other organizations. Advice and assistance may be offered on a variety of topics including, but not limited to, planning for new library construction, budget management, personnel management, fundraising, children's services, collection development, automation and electronic resources and library legislation.

General Consultations Services (site visits, telecommunications, correspondence, etc.) FY 2001:
5,825 (a 17% increase over the previous year)

Grant Administration
The State Library manages state and federal grant programs to improve local library services.

State grants – After a five year campaign on the part of the Association of Public Library Administrators, the State Library and local library friends and trustees, the South Carolina General Assembly increased the State Aid appropriation for FY 2001 to $2.00 per capita with a minimum grant of $40,000 per county. Unfortunately, public libraries never realized the benefits of this long sought goal. Due to a state budget crisis, the General Assembly in May 2001 enacted a 1% across the board reduction in the FY 2001 budget, resulting in per capita State Aid being reduced to $1.98 with the $40,000 minimum grant per county remaining intact.

State Aid regulations require that participating libraries provide countywide service, maintain levels of county funding, and meet certain standards of service. Qualifying libraries are required to develop strategic plans and may use State Aid funds to supplement staff salaries, to purchase collection materials, to purchase or lease equipment and computer hardware and software. State bond funds are occasionally designated for special local library construction projects. These funds are placed in the State Library's budget for disbursement.

Federal grants – The South Carolina State Library administers federal aid to South Carolina libraries under the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA -- P.L. 104-208). LSTA guidelines provide that grant funds are used:

- To expand citizen access to information through electronic information services for all libraries; public, academic and school, access to library services for children, and staff development and training.
- To target library and information services to persons having difficulty using a library and to under served urban and rural communities, including children (from birth through age 17) from families with incomes below the poverty line.

Statewide projects partially funded with LSTA funds include: DISCUS—South Carolina's Virtual Library; children's programs; continuing education program; public library automation, county wide access to library service, and literary programming. Grant funds were used to assist with first time automation of the Allendale-Hampton-Jasper Regional Library; thereby completing the automation of all public libraries in the state.

Grants-in-aid Distributed to Local Libraries

State Aid to counties	$6,988,630
Other State funds (i.e. bond bill)	$1,001,274
Federal funds	$ 630,540

Children's Services

One of the South Carolina State Library's major projects is improving library service to children. The federal grant program offers aid to local libraries for the expansion and enhancement of children's services. Other special activities include:

- Summer reading -- The State Library in cooperation with the state's public libraries sponsors a statewide summer reading program to encourage children to enhance their reading skills over the summer by reading for pleasure. The theme for the annual program was "Extra! Extra! Read All About It". Over 77,000 children ages three to eleven participated in the program, and over 89,000 children attended related library programs
- First Steps to School Readiness program – This statewide initiative benefits libraries. The State Library Director serves on the state First Steps Board, and county libraries are represented on county partnership boards. At least eleven libraries have received First Steps funding.
- An early childhood teacher resource collection selected to assist teachers and day care workers.

Continuing Education

The South Carolina State Library administers a continuing education program designed to enhance the skills of local library staff and state government employees in using library services through workshops provided by the State Library, through federal grants and through cooperative efforts with other organizations. In developing its continuing education activities, the State Library staff consults with local public library directors, the University of South Carolina College of Library and Information Science and the South Carolina Library Association.

Continuing Education Activities - FY 2001
Training events 115
Participants 1,815

Public Library Construction

Adequate facilities are necessary for quality library service. The State Library estimates that almost three out of five of the 184 existing library outlets need renovation, expansion or replacement. Presently there are no federal or state funds available for public library construction. Several libraries have received funding from bond bills and supplemental appropriations bills; however, construction programs must be thoroughly developed to address all necessary issues. Current funding mechanisms do not take the place of such a program.

Though no funds were involved, assistance on building needs was provided for the following libraries:

- Aiken-Bamberg-Barnwell-Edgefield
  (Johnston Branch)
  (Bamberg County Library Headquarters Addition)
- Darlington County
  (Lamar Branch)
- Fairfield County
  (Needs Assessment)

Strategic Goal C: "Serve as the advocate for libraries in South Carolina."

Marketing/Public Information Services

The South Carolina State Library coordinates a statewide public information program designed to promote South Carolina libraries and to make the general public aware of library services.

Major public information activities:

- The "Ticket to Read" promotional campaign designed to encourage children to get a public library card was implemented statewide by the State Library in cooperation with the South Carolina Association of School Librarians and the public libraries.
- The State Library coordinated the South Carolina Read-In. This annual event attracted more than 2500 students from across the state to the State House steps for a celebration of books and reading. Governor and Mrs. Hodges were special guests at the event.
- The State Library was a co-sponsor of the South Carolina Book Festival coordinated by the South Carolina Humanities Council.
- The State Library conducted major promotional activities at professional conferences for DISCUS – South Carolina's Virtual Library.
- The State Library's web site for state government employees was redesigned and reintroduced as "SConnects for State Government."
- The services of the Department for the Blind and Physically Handicapped were promoted at 32 exhibits and events around the state.
- The State Library recognized the ten outstanding South Carolina State government publications at a Notable Documents ceremony held in conjunction with Freedom of Information Day.

Legislation

The State Library was successful in having public libraries included as beneficiaries of the South Carolina Education Lottery Act enacted by the General Assembly. The Act provides that up to 1% of the net lottery proceeds will go to the State Library for disbursement to county public libraries on a per capita basis. The libraries may use the funds for information technology.

Proviso 72.95 of the State Appropriations Act specified that any library receiving state funds in any way, other than a library in an institution of higher education, must use web-filtering software on a proportion of their computer workstations.

Collaborations

The State Library works with other state agencies and organizations to enhance awareness of the important role libraries have in improving education and quality of life in South Carolina.

- The State Library Director serves as a member of the First Steps Board and the K-12 Technology Committee.

- The State Library was heavily involved with the South Carolina Access to Information Technology Coordinating Committee that was established to make recommendations to the General Assembly on requirements needed for South Carolina to comply with Section 508 of the Americans With Disabilities Act. The State Library Director chaired the Locations Subcommittee and members of the State Library's Network Services Department served on committees dealing with automation and web accessibility.

- The State Library jointly funds a position at the South Carolina Humanities Council with the Council and the South Carolina Arts Commission. This project develops public programs throughout the state to promote literary arts across South Carolina.

- The South Carolina State Library and the College of Library and Information Science at the University of South Carolina co-sponsor the Palmetto Book Alliance (PBA). The PBA is the South Carolina affiliate of the Library of Congress Center for the Book. Its mission is to celebrate reading, books, authors and the rich literary heritage of South Carolina. The PBA envisions itself as a virtual center for the book in South Carolina promoting and encouraging participation in book-related programs and activities sponsored by various groups. The PBA continued work on a literary map for South Carolina.

- The State Library Director serves as a liaison to the combined executive board of the Library Director's Forum (representing the directors of libraries of publicly supported institutions of higher education) and the Library Directors Council (representing the directors of libraries in private institutions). Under the sponsorship of this combined board, the Partnership Among South Carolina Academic Libraries (PASCAL) is being established. The goal is to establish a virtual academic network of collaborative ventures. Core programs will include a union catalog of academic holdings, collaborative collection development, consortial purchasing, universal borrowing, statewide digital collections and cooperative professional development and training.

The South Carolina Library Network (SCLN)
Coordinated by the South Carolina State Library, the South Carolina Library Network supports the efforts of local libraries to meet the information needs of all South Carolinians through the sharing of library resources. Libraries participating in the South Carolina Library Network have access to: LION (Library Information Online) automated catalog of the State Library and its web interface, WebLION; online interactive forms for libraries to use in placing interlibrary loan requests through the Internet; FEDCAT (Federal Document Catalog) information database which is used to identify United States documents issued by the Government Printing Office since 1976; and the South Carolina Online Library Directory, containing entries for more than 500 South Carolina libraries.

Internet/Telecommunications Project
State Library staff provided continuing support for this project which is intended to strengthen the resources of South Carolina public libraries through public access to the Internet. The State Library cooperated with the Office of Information Resources (OIR) of the State Budget and Control Board in providing Internet access in these libraries to South Carolina students as an extension of provisions of a statewide K-12 Internet initiative.

South Carolina Group Database Licensing Project
The State Library continued its lead role in the South Carolina Group Database Licensing Project. This collaborative endeavor used the collective buying power of libraries to secure discounts on the subscription price of Internet-accessible electronic databases. A complement to DISCUS, the project enabled public and academic libraries to purchase selected databases appropriate for their clientele.

Strategic Goal E: "Continuously improve State Library operations and services."

Staff Development

The South Carolina State Library's most valuable resource is its workforce. As a relatively small agency in terms of FTEs, the State Library requires its staff to constantly learn new skills and competencies. The State Library Board approved a Staff Development Policy during the year. In conjunction with the policy, a team was established to produce and develop an annual Staff Development and Training Plan. Each staff member is expected to complete at least 10 hours of training a year. The State Library uses work teams (often crossing formal departmental lines) whenever appropriate to address agency needs. Other teams include collection development, home page, Intranet, and public relations.

Volunteer Program

Volunteers made a positive impact on the South Carolina State Library and particularly the Department for the Blind and Physically Handicapped (DBPH) where 49 volunteers contributed 1,831 hours of service. Members of boards, committees and advisory councils represent user groups and aid in the development of policies and services.

Facilities

The South Carolina State Library officially dedicated its newly renovated facility at 1430 Senate Street on October 24, 2000. This building houses the Department for the Blind and Physically Handicapped, the Library Development Department and the Administrative Offices. The State Library's facility directly across the street at 1500 Senate Street is now known as the Information Resources Center and houses the Information Services Department, the Network Services Department and the Technical Services Department.

Customer Needs Assessment

The State Library periodically conducts formal user satisfaction surveys to determine customer needs. In FY 2001, a general survey of public library directors was conducted, as well as specialized surveys in the areas of interlibrary loan, children's services, and continuing education. The results of the surveys are used to establish future service directions in these areas.
